Justin Hayward Solo Tour of the US

General Notes:

Tour dates and venues posted to JustinHayward.com (retrieved March 22, 2022).

Set lists from almost all the shows posted at setlist.fm (retrieved June 18, 2022). The May 19 show omitted "I Just Don't Care.", making May 22 the first time this song has been played live. The set list posted at setlist.fm for the May 26 and June 7 shows switched places for "Your Wildest Dreams" and "I Know You're Out There Somewhere". Some reports also switched places of "The Voice" and "Forever Autumn".

Additional musicians Julie Ragins (backing vocals, keyboards), Mike Dawes (guitars) and Karmen Gould (flute, harmonica, and backing vocals).

Opening act was Mike Dawes (solo), who played a mix of his own songs and covers, “Boogie Shred”, “Jump” (Van Halen cover), “Somebody I Used to Know” (Gotye cover, which he dedicated to affordable gas prices), and “All Along the Watchtower” (Dylan cover made famous by Hendrix). (Reported at Setlist.fm for the May 28 show, retrieved March 18, 2023.) “Boogie Shred” was replaced by “Hot Chicken”, and a “new ballad” (possibly “Reverie”) was inserted between “Somebody I Used to Know” and “All Along the Watchtower” at the June 15 show (reported by Linda Bangert).

John Lodge solo at “Experience 1970” 50th Anniversary Isle of Wight Festival

General Notes:

Postponement from 2021 (the second postponement for COVID-19) noted on the Experience 1970 Isle of Wight Afton Down 50th Anniversary 2020 Facebook page on January 27, 2021 (retrieved August 27, 2021). The post further noted, “all the same artists that were billed for Sept 2020 have been rebooked for late Summer 2022.” Lodge was featured prominently on the 2020 poster as, “The Moody Blues’ John Lodge Performs Classic Moody Blues Hits”.

Cancellation noted at <https://www.experience1970.com/> (retrieved August 8, 2022) with a lengthy explanation of all that had transpired and that the landowner of the original site who they had contracted with, backed out. The explanation also noted, “Large non-refundable deposits were paid to John Lodge of the Moody Blues and Ten Years After...”

September 2022	Afton Down, Isle of Wight		Also appearing were Ten Years After, Pentacle, Groundhogs, Stray, and many more.
